

Petticoat Lane is the focus of many an East End memory. William Frankel recalls the sights, sounds and smells of his boyhood